Introduction

What separates a peak performer from an average worker? How do some people manage to create extraordinary results with relative ease while others struggle to produce average outcomes? What's the difference that makes all the difference?

Peak performers are different from other individuals, primarily in terms of the 'programs' running in their respective 'neck-tops'. It is the unconventional paradigms, and beliefs peak performers hold and the unique insights and principles they live by, that lead to extraordinary results.

This program is a high energy presentation of some of the very best peak performance principles, tools and strategies that have made a quantum difference in the lives of practitioners across the globe. Now you too can benefit from the incredible power of these ideas to take your individual and group productivity to a whole new level!

Learning Highlights

- Discover the hidden performance 'thermostat' within you and switch it to 'Maximum'
- Make the shift to stress-free productivity by applying 'the three tests'
- Discover the 'invisible scale' and tilt it to your advantage
- Escape the 'fire-fighting' mode and think proactively
- Debunk popular myths about personal productivity and effectiveness
- Leverage the 'law of the vital few' to create more with less (this insight by itself is worth your entire investment in the workshop)
- Use 'chunking' to prevent being overwhelmed and vanquish procrastination
- Tap into your latent creativity when faced with roadblocks to come up with unconventional, elegant and cost effective solutions
- Absorb the wisdom contained in a simple equation to shape your outcomes regardless of the circumstances
- Reframe 'failure', abolish limiting mindsets, become a possibility thinker and challenge the impossible

Methodology

A high energy interactive presentation, activities, lateral thinking puzzles, paradigm shifting exercises, individual and team based challenges and short case studies.

An immensely stimulating learning experience that will keep the participants fully engaged throughout the two days.

Who must attend?

In addition to managers and leaders at all levels, employees in all departments who would like to create extraordinary results for themselves and their organization will find this workshop extremely useful.
